

BLUE ISLE studios

February 26th 2013

To Whom it may concern,

Blue Isle Studios permits anyone to create free or ad-supported videos (including Let's Plays, speed runs, reviews, commentary, and so on) using captured or streamed video from Blue Isle Studios video games.

Additional written permission from Blue Isle studios is required for any use of Blue Isle Studios' art, music and audio content outside of the captured in-game footage (please e-mail info@blueislestudios.com with any such requests).

Should you decide to post videos containing Blue Isle Studios content, we request that you provide a functional link to us (please e-mail info@blueislestudios.com with any such requests).

Please note we reserve the right to update this policy without notice or liability. If you have further questions about this policy, please contact info@blueislestudios.com.

Thanks to all you video content creators out there for thinking of us.

Alex Tintor
President
Blueislestudios
@blueislestudio